Airbus Pilots Computer For Black Box: Airbus Pilots Computer For Black Box: Fmc Black BoxThe number of murders in the city is down significantly from 2018 and is on pace to be the lowest in five years. In 2018, there were 56 homicides in San Francisco. According to the latest official numbers, released by the San Francisco Police Department, there were 34 murders in 2019. That is the lowest number of murders recorded since 2015. "In just the past four years, that rate has fallen by more than one-third," San Francisco Police Chief Bill Scott said during a news conference Friday. "And I do believe the eight homicides this year so far is the lowest level we've had since I've been chief." Not only is the rate of homicides down, but so are the numbers of killings. Scott said in 2019, there have been eight homicides in San Francisco, compared to 18 in the same time period last year. In 2018, a former San Francisco Police Department officer was convicted in the 2012 murder of 26-year-old Vincent Dzokoski. Dzokoski was killed a year after being shot three times in the side as he sat in his parked car near Mission Street and 23rd Avenue. The former officer, Raul Reynoso, was convicted of second degree murder on Oct. 2. A jury found him guilty of the killing after it deliberated for four days and found him not guilty of first degree murder and involuntary manslaughter. Reynoso was set to be sentenced on Friday. Reynoso is seen in a jail photo from 2012. He is currently in jail on unrelated charges. "I'm grateful to all of the victims and families for the strength and grace they've shown in these cases and their life sentences for Reynoso,"
